Friday, October 2
Virtual Tours

Join us Friday morning and afternoon for virtual tours of historic Lansing. Get a behind-the-scenes look at museums, historic buildings, and other points of interest around the city—all without having to leave home or board a tour bus. Each tour provides an opportunity to view Lansing’s rich history from a unique perspective as you learn from local curators, tour guides, and experts.

If you can’t make it to Lansing, we’ll bring Lansing to you!

(After you register, a complete tour schedule will be sent with your conference log-in information.)

What to expect when you see one of these...

Exhibitor Time

We know that browsing the vibrant exhibit tables is a highlight for conference attendees, and we intend to replicate that experience with our first-ever Virtual Exhibit Hall.

➢ See and hear from local organizations, authors, sponsors, and other vendors.

➢ Exhibitors will join the stream after every session to tell you about their work—from Q&As with authors to news from historical organizations.

➢ Visit virtual exhibit tables on our website, complete with vendor information and links to their products and services.

➢ Start up a conversation with exhibitors on our social media group while you watch the live stream.

Our Virtual Exhibit Hall will bring you closer to the vendors than ever before.

Mini-Workshops

Some conference-goers like to attend training opportunities that can help them hone their skills—and those attendees have not been forgotten. Opposite the tours, we’ve scheduled four mini-workshops. Participants can choose one mini-workshop or join them all for a “workshop track.”

9 A.M. - 10:15 A.M.

Fading Photos: How to Identify, Scan, Restore, and Archive Historical Photographs

Robert Myers, Historical Society of Michigan

This workshop assists small museums, historical societies, and interested collectors in identifying and preserving their historical photographs. The presenter will review basic conservation techniques, storage recommendations, digital scanning, and how to approach cataloging issues. Attendees will have the chance to see plenty of examples and ask any questions that they may have.

PastPerfect 101
Christy Kincaid, Air Zoo Aerospace & Science Museum
You bought PastPerfect—now how do you use it? The PastPerfect collections management software is popular with museums of all sizes, but it can overwhelm users with its complexities. A longtime PastPerfect user will help demystify the database and show you how to get the most out of the system. Recommended for PastPerfect 5.0 users.

Virtual “Happy Hour”
Michigan History Trivia

How well do you know your state? Get to know other conference attendees as you play along in our interactive Michigan history trivia “happy hour.” The game will determine your mastery of useless knowledge of our Great Lakes State and earn you bragging rights among your kith and kin! Grab some paper and a pencil, and come join the fun!

Presentation of This Year’s State History Awards

Each year, the Historical Society of Michigan presents State History Awards to individuals and organizations that have made outstanding contributions to the appreciation and understanding of Michigan history. Join us as we present 2020’s awards and recognize the achievement of an individual or organization in the collection, preservation, and/or promotion of state and local history.
Day 2 offers seven time periods, where you can choose to attend one of two presentations. Each session will also be followed by an Exhibit Time period, just like on Day 1!

HSM Business Meeting

Women Under the Dome: Groundbreakers at the Capitol

Valerie R. Marvin
Michigan State Capitol

Harriet Tenney made history when she became the first female state officer in 1869. Soon, there were dozens of women working in the Capitol in a variety of positions, including librarians, clerks, janitors, and legislators. Join us to “meet” several of those women and examine their work and enduring legacies in the Capitol.

Capitalists and Laborers: Building an Auto Industry in Lansing

David Christopher Siwik
Lansing Community College

Join us as we discover the story of Lansing’s growth. Increasing rates of automobile production created a need for physical infrastructure. Learn not only about the individuals who founded notable automobile companies in the city but also about the laborers and labor unions whose work actually produced the cars and roads.

The Power of the Black Imaginary: Afroturism and Comics
Julian Chambliss
Michigan State University

Explore the legacy of comics in Afroturism in this thrilling session, which addresses how comic books offer different visions of freedom, community, and power. In particular, the speaker will focus on comics and creators that engage with the Midwest and are inspired by Detroit’s importance to the urban-industrial experience.

Conquering the Cough: Grand Rapids Women Beating Disease
Julie Hoogland, Greater Grand Rapids Women’s History Council & Sue Thoms, Spectrum Health

Whooping cough used to be a deadly killer—until innovative public health scientists took action. Learn the remarkable story of the women who, in the 1930s and 1940s, fought for vaccine development, pioneered field studies, and inspired creative collaboration in a story that, until recently, had been lost to time.

Fading to Black: Detroit’s Negro League History—Lost and Found
Gary Gillette
Friends of Historic Hamtramck Stadium

A must-see for baseball fans, this session explores the history of Black baseball from the Civil War until the 1960s, including the establishment of the Detroit Stars team in 1919 and the Negro National League in 1920. The speaker will also discuss the ongoing efforts to restore Historic Hamtramck Stadium to its former glory.

Yearning to Breathe Free: Refugee Newcomers in Michigan
Erika Brown-Binion
Refugee Development Center

Refugees are valuable members of many communities across Michigan and offer unique perspectives on global and local issues that our society faces. Come to this presentation to learn how the Lansing Refugee Development Center supports those newcomers and to understand the importance of refugees to the Great Lakes State.
Picturesque Memories: Snapshots of Old Lansing

Rachel Clark
Michigan History Center

Back in Victorian times, many hidden killers existed in our homes—even in our wallpaper. Learn the thrilling and morbid story of arsenic’s luminous green appeal through the lens of Michigan’s Dr. Kedzie, a professor who published a book of wallpaper samples that included dangerous arsenic dyes.
